We owe our success in helping these youngsters to you—with your support, more and more children go to school in new shoes and clothing that help them fit in with others, allowing them to concentrate on their schoolwork rather than their circumstances.

What I'd really like to tell you is that I'm so grateful for the shoes you gave me. Its people like you that make this world a little easier to live in. Thank you so very very much. From a happy student in El Camino school, Rosy
